NOTICE TO TYPING OFFICIALS

Corrupt DENR officials the problem

11/11/2012 11:11 AM

A dirt road in a forest in the Philippines.

LETTERS
 Editor,
 The Philippine Star
 Manila

I am writing to you to express my concern about the state of the environment in the Philippines. I have been following the news about the DENR officials and their actions, and I am deeply disappointed. The DENR officials are the problem, not the people. They are the ones who are corrupt and who are responsible for the destruction of the environment. They are the ones who are selling off the land and the resources of the Philippines to foreign companies. They are the ones who are ignoring the needs of the Filipino people and who are only concerned with their own pockets. I am writing to you to urge you to take action against the DENR officials and to protect the environment of the Philippines.

Developer is mid-market's own 'specialist'

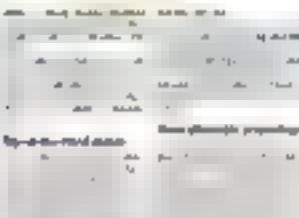

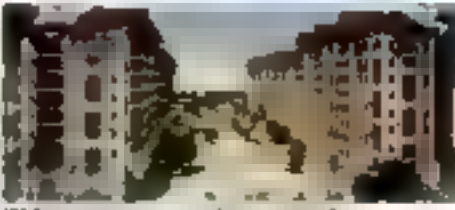

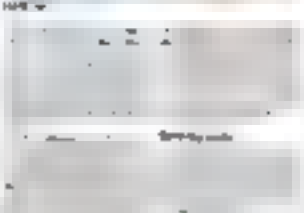

By Teresa Limjoco

Ever since the mid-market segment of the real estate market has been identified, it has been a hot topic for developers and investors alike. The mid-market segment is defined as properties that are not as large as the high-end market but are also not as small as the low-end market. It is a segment that is often overlooked but is becoming increasingly important in the current market.

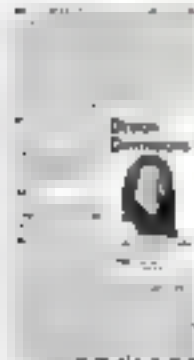

Developer's Take

Mid-market properties are often the most difficult to sell. They are not as glamorous as the high-end market and are often overlooked by investors. However, they are also the most affordable and can provide a good return on investment. Developers who focus on the mid-market segment are often the most successful in the current market.

Developers should focus on the mid-market segment and provide high-quality properties that meet the needs of investors.

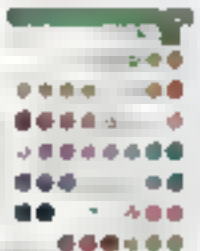

A local green push for the global market

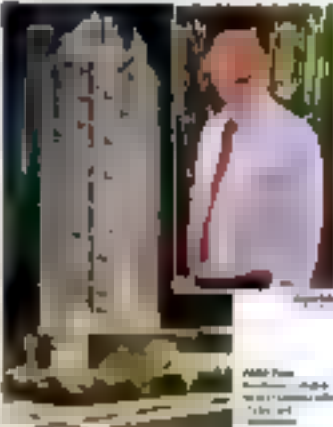

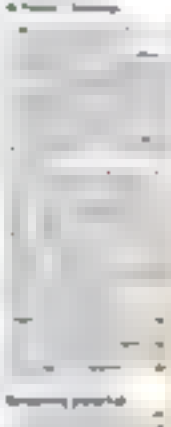

Green means healthy

Green buildings are becoming increasingly popular in the current market. They are not only environmentally friendly but also provide a healthy and comfortable living environment. Developers who focus on green buildings are often the most successful in the current market.
